PROJECTS

Crypto Coins Project

Project utilizes Bulma, GSAP animations, es6 JavaScript, and CSS, and utilizes a plethora of calls from CoinGecko API. The site dynamically produces list of 100 top performing cryptocurrencies, 7 most trending coins, DeFi/CeFi derivatives, crypto financing products, current crypto market information, percentages and and currency caps. Dynamic creation of elements through JavaScript. Entire project improvised.

OptikoCodes

Full-stack Java app based on MVC design with Spring Boot framework - I constructed all front-end components. Users can post code-format problem (Summernote WYSIWIG) and receive video responses catered to post through Filestack API upload or embedded video link. Enables a JavaScript screen-recording response, comments, images on posts for screenshots, and search function. MySQL used for data management.

Spring Blog App

Full-stack Spring Boot application contained with Maven, and designed via MVC pattern. App enables dynamic text through query string manipulation, a randomized number dice-game, and CRUD-enabled posts viewed through Thymeleaf templates. Java Persistence API (Hibernate) utilized for controller modifications and repository extensions.

Super Movie Bros

Paired programming app which enables user to add movies with a title and rating to existing JSON database, and contains all other CRUD functionality. App initiates with an opening MP4 of edited movie clips, followed by a smooth GSAP animation transition, and CSS and jQuery lightsabers. Heavy use of JS, jQuery, CSS and Bootstrap; runtime environment via Node.js.
